John Moist came forward to present an engraved statue to Chief Busey. He explained that he was representing all citizens that were pulling for Kelly during the selection process and thanked Chief Busey for his dedication and enduring service.

Chief Busey then introduced the members of his family.

PRESENTATIONS:

1. US Open Presentation. Pierce County Executive Pat McCarthy said that we delighted to be hosting the 2015 US Open Golf Tournament at Chambers Bay Golf Course in June. She gave a brief overview of what the event will encompass over the seven day period and introduced Danny Sink.

Danny Sink, US Open Championship Director, thanked Mayor, Council and Staff for working with him over the past two years. He stressed the importance of this regional event and described some of what has happened to date to work towards a successful championship event. He praised the Chambers Bay Golf Course for its public amenities and talked about the direct and positive affect this event will have on Gig Harbor hotels, restaurants, and other amenities.

2. Recognizing the Three-Time National Champion Gig Harbor Canoe and Kayak Racing Team. Mayor Guernsey introduced the Gig Harbor Canoe and Kayak Racing Team who brought forward a banner announcing their championship status. Alan Anderson gave a brief introduction of his fellow coaches, and talked of the hard work by the team, and the support of the parents and community that helped make this possible. Mayor Guernsey presented a proclamation praising the accomplishment to Mr. Anderson.

3. Morning Rotary 40th Birthday Proclamation and Recognition of Alan Bucholz. Mayor Guernsey presented the proclamation to Dick Vanburg who gave a brief history of this Rotary Club. He explained that Alan Bucholz is the sole remaining charter member of the organization.

4. Recognition of Service to the City: Maureen Whitaker – 20 years and Marco Malich, 30 years. Mayor Guernsey announced that two city employees, Maureen Whitaker, and Marco Malich, have been with the city a long period of time and said the city would like to recognize them for their length of service.

Councilmember Ekberg said that it's been a great pleasure working with both employees, who are a real testament to the kind of employees we have at the city. They don't view this as a job, but take the city to heart and go above and beyond. It's wonderful to have them here and it's great to know them, he added.

Councilmember Payne echoed the sentiments, and added that Maureen's honest opinion has been a breath of fresh air, and that she does a fantastic job in Public Works. He then thanked Marco for the support given to his wife during the efforts to bring forth the playground, and stressed that Marco has always been responsive and customer service oriented throughout the years.

OLD BUSINESS: None scheduled.

NEW BUSINESS:

1. Grandview Forest Park Tree Evaluation – Consultant Services Contract. Public Works Director Jeff Langhelm presented this contract to evaluate and make recommendations for the trees in Grandview Forest Park for laminated root rot. He addressed Council questions.

Councilmember Ekberg said he would abstain from the vote as he has used the contractor for a number of years.

MOTION: Move to authorize the Mayor to execute a Consultant Services Contract with Thundering Oak Enterprises in an amount not to exceed One Thousand Two Hundred Sixty Dollars and Zero Cents.

Payne / Perrow – six voted in favor. Councilmember Ekberg abstained.

2. Public Hearing and Resolution No. 971 – Canterwood Utility Extension Agreement. Public Works Director Jeff Langhelm presented the background for this agreement to provide sewer utility service to eleven connections at the request of The Canterwood Development Company. He addressed Council's questions on the impact of these additional connections.

The Mayor opened the public hearing at 6:05 p.m.

Eva Hill – 2020 Squawk Mountain Loop Road, Issaquah. Ms. Hill, representative for The Canterwood Development Company, explained that this request is similar to previous utility extension agreements with the city and offered to answer any questions.

There were no further comments and the public hearing closed at 6:07 p.m.

MOTION: Move to approve Resolution 971 for a sewer Utility Extension Agreement with the Canterwood Development Company.

Kadzik / Payne – unanimously approved.

3. Public Hearing and First Reading of Ordinance – Updates to Marijuana Code 17.63. Senior Planner Lindsey Sehmel presented the procedural history and then an overview of the proposed amendments directed by City Council. She said that several public comments had been received and provided to Council.

Mayor Guernsey opened the public hearing at 6:18 p.m.

Jill Williams – 6409 Rosedale St. NW. Ms. Williams, a chemical dependency educator, voiced grave concern what allowing this will do to our community. She asked about neighborhoods that with home schooled children, and whether they too will be included in the buffer zones. She said a Gig Harbor Policewoman said this is going to cause great difficulty. As a contractor for the Department of Corrections, she said this will be a nightmare for the police. She said she understands that the Council is shackled by those who voted for this, but said there were a lot that voted against it as well. Our concern has to be with the children of the community, and she hopes the city can do something about what she considers a plague upon the community. As a mother and grandmother she voiced appreciation to be able to speak, and then said that like it or not, it's in this community and this makes it more accessible to kids.

Charlotte Gerlof – 7712 73rd St. Ct. NW. Ms. Gerlof said that I-502 passed with a majority of 54% and it's important for City Council and all people to take note and respect the wishes of the voters. Regardless if its marijuana or liquor or some other "so called vice" the law is the law and it is alarming that City Council is intending to negate the votes. You are public servants and this is not a moral issue or a God-driven issue or some anomaly. Turn back the clock and the same thing happened with liquor; and she finds it alarming that we will have a vodka dispensary where there was a candy store, but it's the law. We need to step back from the fear and anxiety generated by the idea of something might happen and work through the law. There are several attorneys on the City Council and urged them to take a look at that. She said she takes exception for the remark made that the voters of Gig Harbor did not know what they were voting for. People are savvy, and it was written quite clearly and they know exactly what they voted for; they just didn't vote the way the City Council would have liked. She is concerned that the maps only show where retail can't occur, not where retail could operate. Whether you like it or not, marijuana is here to stay; this is not a bubble community and all this protection for the children and vulnerable adults being generated with this fear-mongering has to be taken into context. She would really like to see a map where the retailers could have that opportunity.

The Mayor assured Ms. Gerlof that although hard to see on the overhead maps, the locations where retail sale are allowed is shown and she should make arrangements to view the maps after the meeting.

Sara Sexton – 10915 65th Ave NW. Ms. Sexton asked the city not to confuse the vote for I-502 as a vote for retail store in Gig Harbor. She is a twelve year resident living in Henderson Bay Estates and though not in city limits, she said she considers herself a defacto resident and every decision the city makes affects her family personally. She stressed that she doesn't want a retail store on Burnham Drive; she doesn't want it anywhere in Gig Harbor. Precinct 301 voted no to I-502 and that is where a retail store could locate. She said if it moves forward, she would like the definition of parks to include undeveloped land intended for parks and neighborhood playgrounds owned by HOA's. If Gig Harbor becomes known as "pot friendly" will people still call this the greatest place to live? We have this wonderful, successful group of Canoe and Kayak Team members that we are very proud of; so will we be sending them a mixed message? She addressed Councilmember Kadzik by saying "Dr. Kadzik, I remember you when you came into my classroom in Purdy and talked about dental hygiene, and you became their dentist. I know you care about kids and I want you to please remember that and remember the common good of the community when you make this decision about marijuana in Gig Harbor."

Jon Sexton – 10915 65th Ave. NW. Mr. Sexton said they have lived here twelve years. They chose Gig Harbor because it's a special place with a strong reputation for being a family-friendly place to live. He said that it's unbelievable to him that the city, who said no to Walmart and just recently, no to their schools, is going to say yes to drugs. You can say it's not a moral issue, but it's very much a moral issue. And it's not fear-mongering but responsible grown-ups and parents looking out for the safety of their community and protecting their children. If we aren't willing to put it right in the middle of downtown, then find the clusters of people who support I-502 and put it next to their homes and neighborhoods. The employment district suitable for retail marijuana sales happens to be right next to two giant neighborhoods with a bus stop right up the hill. There are playgrounds, and it is within a two mile radius of the two high schools, a middle school, and an elementary school. He said he considers putting retail marijuana into our community to be madness. If it's not right for the waterfront in our beautiful city, then you've answered the question...it's not right for Gig Harbor. The safety of our children overwhelmingly trumps the right of businessmen to sell retail pot in Gig Harbor, he said, adding that his concern is crime, the example we set for our young people, traffic, stoned drivers, and our reputation. It is legal, it's regulated and it's taxed; but so are strip clubs and adult book stores and casinos...what about those ventures? He said he's all for capitalism up until it harms the common good. If he were looking for a place to call home today and knew Gig Harbor had retail pot, he would scratch it from his list considering it undesirable and sleazy.

Mayor Guernsey asked the audience to hold their applause to expedite the testimony.

Monte Maenhout - 4704 Saddleback Drive NW. Mr. Maenhout said he voted against this law, but is thankful that the city is taking the time to look into this further. He has three teenagers and appreciates what the city has done on this difficult issue. As a parent, he is responsible for his children's actions and what they are going to do and the decisions they make. He doesn't think it's the city's right to decide what his children do and he understands wanting to make this a safe place for everybody, but parents have that responsibility as well. He said he's done a 180 and is not against having this passed. He lives close to one of the proposed areas and doesn't have a problem with it because the state regulates it. He doesn't know if it's the greatest or worst thing for the city but nobody knows. He doesn't think it's going to be bad and the people going to run it will probably do a fine job. The naysayers have a right to be concerned. He said any land the city owns that might be a park is burdensome and shouldn't regulate where a business could go today.

Sharon Dahl – 6309 110th St. NW. Ms. Dahl begged the city not to put that in her neighborhood. There are so many young families in Henderson Bay Estates already talking about moving. It will bring down property values, and people are unhappy. We have such a great area up there. She has lived in Gig Harbor 42 years so she's not a newbie and worked for the school district. This is such a wonderful place. Her daughter moved to Puyallup and came back to raise her kids here. If the Councilmembers don't want it next to their houses, think of her; she doesn't want it next to her house.

Don Dahl – 6309 110th St. NW. Mr. Dahl voiced support for what has been said, but asked about parks. He said there are 90 plus homes in the two developments Horizon West and Henderson Bay Estates, and two parks in each. He asked if there is or isn't a radius of 1000 feet from their parks, and if not, don't their kids count? He's lived here his entire life and thought we had a good quality system and we need to be careful on how we take this step and not make a mistake.

Lee Van Komen – 6208 110th St. Ct. NW. – Mr. Van Komen, a father of five and resident of the Gig Harbor area for 11 years, knows this is a great place to live. They chose the area for the family community with playgrounds, parks, and everything they wanted. It has grown so much over the years, and with all the talk about development, Gig Harbor is a unique place. He used the inability to rent tools at our Home Depot as an example of doing things differently here, and asked why we need to be like everybody else and why do we need to pass this ordinance? He mentioned the feeling that 54% majority is a huge majority, and as stated, precinct 301 actually voted no on 502. This is the area being proposed for the shop. The Gallery is another thing he finds interesting, he said. It has the image of an art store yet sells pot. Why can't it just be a pot shop and not hide behind the face of art? He proposed that we look to the future and remember these parks. We've done a great job of creating this community with wonderful parks and atmosphere. Respect the opinion of the voters in that area. Apply the most restrictive ordinance possible including these future city parks if necessary or continue the moratorium. We don't need to be the first community to see how this affects us. His daughter likes to eat candy and will sneak off and hide the wrappers. Are we trying to hide the wrappers for the profit this will come into the community?

Bruce Monell – 165 Island Blvd, Fox Island. Mr. Monell, a resident of the Gig Harbor area for 30 years, said he has first-hand knowledge of what pot can do to families. The school district has said alcohol use and smoking are going down because of prevention programs. We don't have that for drugs. The D.A.R.E. was proven ineffective and so there isn't a program to truly deal with drug prevention. Our young people can get hurt, especially those predetermined genetically to have these problems. We don't want to bring this into our community. The county has restricted the sale of marijuana so Gig Harbor would be the base if allowed. You don't want to take a community that was in the top ten retirement communities in the nation and one of the best family communities anywhere and bring something in against our youth. In the long-term against our adults as well because it's a gateway drug. Many studies have shown and proven this and we need to recognize that and take the strong step other cities have taken. Recognize it's time to ban, not to have an ordinance.

Marlyn Jensen – 6409 Rosedale St. NW. Ms. Jensen, who has lived here 33 years, loves this community and referred to it as Heaven on Earth. She raised four children here and has two grandchildren. She said she is proud of the City Council for the moratorium on marijuana. This isn't something to be done quickly. As a property manager in Tacoma, she sees problems with young people smoking marijuana and having problems functioning. She doesn't want to bring it here. We don't need to give more temptation to our young people who are having enough problems with substance abuse. We don't need to bring marijuana to our beautiful community. She said everyone tonight has said wonderful things and there is not much left for her to say. We need to think of the health of our young and vulnerable students and children, and be good role models. She thanked Council and said she hopes we keep the moratorium going as long as we can.

Mayor Guernsey said that everyone who signed up to speak has spoken and asked if anyone else wished to come forward.

Maria Orlan (sp?) – 10905 64th Ave. NW. Ms. Orlan said they looked everywhere for a house and moved here when there were only six houses in the neighborhood, but now there are 95. She wants her kids to be in a nice neighborhood in a nice city with good schools. They made the right decision to move here; Gig Harbor is in the Coastal Magazine as one of the best towns to live and she is proud to live here. She became an American Citizen five years ago and one of the first things she did is to register to vote in order to elect those who will do the right things for her family. She did not vote for I-502 and honestly believes this is not a good thing for our community. Some people don't see it that way because they do not have kids. It is not good for the city; not good for our houses; it's not good for anybody. She is already looking to move as she doesn't want to live here if it is going to happen. If people want to smoke marijuana, they can go and drive somewhere else.

Jan Vance – 3503 Harborview Drive. Ms. Vance said she doesn't need to continue to plead or present evidence of how bad marijuana retail would be for this community. She said her understanding is this is the last opportunity to comment on where it's going to be because the city has already decided to allow it. When she thinks of all the testimony, and all the time that has gone into finding a way to make it possible to sell marijuana in the community rather than to slow this down so we can get more information; this is a mess, she added. From the State; it's against Federal Law; it's absolutely a mess and yet countless hours have gone into find a way to open retail stores. She is perplexed, and asked if she is wrong in assuming the decision has been made to allow the sale.

Senior Planner Lindsey Sehmel responded that in September of last year Council adopted permanent regulations for marijuana related uses. Since then we have taken a "time-out" to address additional concerns recognizing that the State Attorney General states that cities have the ability to control retail use within their jurisdiction. We are here tonight to make amendments to the permanent regulations in 17.63.

Ms. Vance asked if her understanding that the Attorney General gave cities the option of whether they would allow marijuana in their cities was correct. The first hearing on this went by her and asked if there was a public hearing. She asked again for the Council to reconsider this for the sake of Gig Harbor.

Jeni Woock – 3412 Lewis Street. Ms. Woock said that Council has her comments on the ordinance. In reference to 502, on August 7th we read the statement by Attorney General Bob Ferguson stating that it is his job to assure that the will of the people is upheld and if anyone seeks to overturn state laws his office will defend the law. Pierce County prosecutes about 10,000 cases a year, she continued. In 2012, 48 of those were for marijuana with 502 parameters. Those were dropped and the county no longer prosecutes these cases. The majority of Gig Harbor voters voted in favor of a law. As public servants it is your duty to carry out the vote of the majority in a safe and responsible manner in accordance with Washington State Laws. It's not good public relations for this council to be seen as a third-world power that throws out the majority votes of the citizens. What to do? Throw out the Washington State regulations and make up our own rules and regulations? You think no one notices that these are different than the states'? Your vote is not more important than any others vote and our country is about the majority vote not how to get around that. If there is a lawsuit, while it might be easy to ignore the citizens' vote, it will not be easy with the Attorney General's office. It will cost a lot of money; how much more are you willing to spend to go against the vote of the majority?

Heidi Canda – 2525 Cliffside Lane. Ms. Canda is new to the Harbor, but said it's the most beautiful place on the planet. They moved here for the school district. The teachers, the community, the downtown, the mountain are all fabulous. She said she voted against the marijuana issue because the state isn't regulating anything, but here we are and she appreciates Council taking the time on this serious issue. She disagrees with points made that we don't have drug prevention programs. There are programs she went through that prevented her from following in her parents footsteps such as Little League, Harbor Premier, and other positive things we have in our community. This is a great place and whether QFC sells alcohol or tobacco isn't going to affect her children. Whether there is a marijuana store / hemp café up the street...there are temptations everywhere, and we all know the truth about the internet and magazines. As a community and as a parent all we can do is raise our children the best we can through these programs. The Saloon is close to Dairy Queen, but that doesn't stop her from going for ice cream. She appreciates what Council is doing to protect her children, but it's not as harmful as people are claiming it to be. Be on the positive side and support the schools, teachers and programs. The kayak team is amazing...that's why she moved to the harbor.

Michelle Henry – 4615 Saddleback. Ms. Henry said everyone moved to Gig Harbor because it's an incredible place for kids. It's a wonderful, beautiful community. There isn't anyone who lives here that wants to create an unsafe place for kids. When I-502 came up; before she voted and since she has become part of the conversation, she researched the legalization verses prohibition issue. She said the people react in passion and their first response is "oh my gosh, it's drugs." We all grew up with the 'gateway drug' idea and to be afraid. But we aren't bringing marijuana to Gig Harbor; it's already here, it's all over the State of Washington, it's all over the United States, it's everywhere and our kids can get access to it. She has an intelligent, straight A student at Harbor Ridge Middle School that they talk to about the legalization of marijuana. She says that even though it's legal doesn't mean she is supposed to do it just as because alcohol is three aisles away from back to school section at Target means that it's okay for her to drink. What we can do for our kids and our community is to be educated. She did research on Colorado since they have legalized it. They have the most progressive legalization in the country and basically every negative consequence: the increase in crime, car accidents and fatalities in car accidents, teenage use, decrease in tourism, all the things you would be worried about have all turned out to have had the opposite effect, especially in the past six months. It's possible that these things aren't going to happen as we are seeing the results of legalization. Alcohol and tobacco use is down with the kids, and in Colorado, use of marijuana by kids is down. She encouraged those that are scared and fearful to actually consider this as our chance to win against marijuana; our chance to give our police to regulate and control it; our chance to protect our children which we aren't able to do now.

Carolyn Wright – 6423 111th Street NW. Ms. Wright said her husband has been in the army for 30 years and is currently serving overseas. His job is to keep this country safe. They planned on retiring in Gig Harbor but she doesn't know if he will come home to a safe neighborhood since they want to build a pot store down the street from her house. She doesn't think the Council should be intimidated by the threat of lawsuits. The law says you may sell marijuana in the State of Washington, but it doesn't say you have to sell it.

There were no further public comments and so the public hearing was closed at 7:01 p.m.

Senior Planner Sehmel explained that the second reading of the ordinance is scheduled for September 8th. She said any proposed changes to the ordinance need to be discussed and to let her know before second reading.

City Attorney Summerfield clarified that if Council makes changes at the September 8th meeting, Council may adopt the ordinance at that second reading and it would probably be brought back for ratification at the following meeting, as long as the amendments are on the same topics that were the subject of this public hearing.

Councilmember Ekberg suggested that Council consider the public testimony this evening on and come back at the next meeting to discuss each amendment. Councilmember Malich agreed.

Councilmember Payne asked if it would be possible to do a permanent ban at that time. Ms. Summerfield responded that if that is the direction Council wished to go, we would need a new public hearing.

Councilmember Perrow said he is ready to hold a discussion this evening, but he is willing to wait if others feel the need to look at it closer.

Councilmember Arbenz commented that this isn't an issue any of them take lightly. Speaking for himself, he said the reason this has dragged on is because he is attempting to be open-minded and listen to everyone who has an opinion in order to make the best decision for Gig Harbor.

Councilmember Payne commented on the public testimony that we were unable to consider a ban. He clarified that January 16th the Attorney General put out an opinion that said a city could ban marijuana sales. We are considering this ordinance to try and determine a reasonable balance. Everything is still on the table.

Mayor Guernsey announced that the next Council meeting will be on September 8th and encouraged those interested to be present.

CITY ADMINISTRATOR / STAFF REPORT:

City Administrator Ron Williams presented several announcements:

- 1) Last week the Washington State Heritage Capital Project Fund listed their priority of projects to be funded in the 2015-17 cycle, and the Ancich Netshed Restoration Project made number 12 on the list for a grant of $661,000.00. On the alternative list, the Eddon Boatyard House Restoration joint application looks good as well.
- 2) The Department of Ecology paid a surprise visit to our Wastewater Treatment Plant for an inspection last week. They were pleased with what is going on and made only minor adjustments.
- 3) Karen Scott, Tourism and Communications Director, received a letter of praise from a statewide tourism agency calling Gig Harbor's tourism operation the best in the state.

PUBLIC COMMENT:

Jerry Gibbs – 4811 100th Ave Court. Mr. Gibbs said the election is over and the voters have spoken considering the school funding issues. Elections have consequences; the Peninsula School District stated throughout the campaign that the overcrowding in Gig Harbor North was leading to a lot of pressure on the Purdy Elementary. He has toured these schools and seen it for himself. Over the next few months we are probably going to hear a lot of ideas, options, and solutions and he urged the City Council to be engaged in that discussion. Schools need to be factored into the growth of this community. Schools need to be factored in like sewer capacity, electricity, and roads before you issue a building permit. He does not believe that the capacity of schools to absorb the growth has been factored into these decisions before 1500 building permits were issued. It needs to be and the City Council must be open to ideas that can temper or lessen the impact of growth in Gig Harbor North if the school comes up with proven data. The taxpayers / voters didn't like the plan that was floated. Unchecked growth in Gig Harbor North continues to pressure the schools. The second thing he addressed is that the election divided the community and unethical tactics like sign theft were rampant and perpetuated the divide. His community lost over 300 signs costing $1600. Two complaints were filed with the city police and sheriff's department. They find it odd that they couldn't catch the persons who stole the signs two hours after they were put up. They took it upon themselves to catch the person and the case is being reviewed by the prosecutor. When the City Council endorses a political issue like Prop 1 and Prop 2, does it send a signal to the Public Works and Police Department that they should take a different stance on enforcement? He stressed better sign ordinances and sign enforcement before the next election.

MAYOR'S REPORT / COUNCIL COMMENTS:

Mayor Guernsey mentioned that last Friday was Military Appreciation Day at Sehmel Park; a fabulous event that packed the park. PenMet Parks, the Chamber of Commerce, A.U.S.A. and others all contributed to the success of the event.

Mayor Guernsey then said she went out on the Marine Patrol Boat with Officer Chet Dennis who did a wonderful job. He is friendly and well accepted on the water.
